

The background is a dark, monochromatic illustration of a tropical beach. It features several palm trees with detailed fronds. In the lower-left corner, two people are depicted: one appears to be sitting on a beach chair or lounge, and the other is standing nearby. The overall style is reminiscent of a vintage travel poster or a detailed woodcut print, rendered in a dark, textured color scheme.

THE NEW COVE

Something Beautiful Is on the Horizon

An extraordinary transformation is under way at The Cove, reshaping every oceanfront suite, restaurant, and the iconic Beach Club with a new standard of personal service and vibrant Bahamian luxury.

On Paradise Island, nothing stays still. Limestone and wood are continually smoothed by wind, water, and sun. The new Cove embodies this rhythm—luxury defined by refinement over time. What remains is clarity, warmth, and light.

EDGE OF ARCHITECTURE, DESIGN PARTNER

Every refreshed space is designed to feel discovered, not designed, with a palette of natural materials including honed stone, light-toned wood, and layered plaster. The focus is always on sunlight and ocean views.

THE GUEST EXPERIENCE

Your Personal Paradise

Perched on the edge of a pristine private beach, The Cove offers a seamless oceanfront getaway. Our guest experience has been reimagined from the ground up, ensuring that every moment of your stay feels just as effortless.

When you arrive in the renovated lobby,
a personal concierge will greet you,
get you checked in immediately,
and whisk you away to your suite.

Designed by Edge of Architecture, The Cove's renovated, all-suite accommodations are sunlit, weightless sanctuaries where ocean views greet you each morning.

New in-room amenities prioritize wellness and relaxation—advanced lighting controls, luxury bath products by Frédéric Malle, Nordaq water filtration, and personalized turndown rituals.

Welcome to the all-new Beach Club—
an intimate, adults-only sanctuary inspired by the South of France.
Located alongside our breathtaking private beach, this pool and lifestyle destination is the heart of The Cove.
